

PSALM 26

Judge Lord I walk, innocent in Your favor; trusting You Lord, I never will waver.

- 2 Examine me Lord, prove me and try; like kidney and heart, the blood purify.
- 3 For Your lovingkindness, always in my sight; I walk in Your truth, and do what is right.
- 4 I don't dwell with evil, men's guile untrue; nor go forth with those, who conceal what they do.
- 5 I hate the assembly, of worthless vain men; I'll never dwell, with the wicked who sin.
- 6 I'll wash my hands, and keep my ways pure; surround Your altar, O Lord ever sure.
- 7 That others may hear, when I call forth with praise; marking out all, of Your wonders each day.
- 8 Lord I have loved, Your house Your abode; where You stand forth, and Your splendor is known.
- 9 Don't gather my soul, with those full of guilt; and keep me alive, from the men who have killed.
- 10 Their handiwork shows, each wicked lewd plan; and every bribe, is in their right hand.
- 11 But as for me, I will walk right in You; ransom and save me, Your mercy hold true.
- 12 My feet now stand firm, in a place that is plain; with all those assembled, I'll bless the Lord's name.
