

PSALM 33

Shout to the Lord, O righteous and just; beautiful hymns, in His honor a must.

- 2 Worship the Lord, with harp that you pluck; sing with a lyre, the decachord struck.
- 3 Stroll as you sing, a new song from your heart; happily thrum, with acclaim all thou art.
- 4 For the Word of the Lord, is right straight and true; faithful and firm, is all that He'll do.
- 5 Loving justice and virtue, and all that is right; the Lord filled the earth, with His goodness and light.
- 6 By the Lord's Word the heavens, were made as of old; all of their number, from breath He has blown.
- 7 Collecting the waters, the seas in a pile; framing the depths, like a storehouse in style.
- 8 Let all the earth, show respect to the Lord; all there who dwell, stand in awe of His Word.
- 9 For He spoke it was done, so perfect and good; He gave a command, and firmly it stood.
- 10 The Lord brings the plans, of the nations to nought; all their inventions, refused as He ought.
- 11 The advice of the Lord, forever will stand; the plans of His heart, unto every man.
- 12 Happy the nations, who make God their Lord; the tribes He's selected, heirs in one accord.
- 13 The Lord up in heaven, looks down with a scan; beholds for Himself, each child of man.
- 14 From His abode, where He sits with a glance; at all who inhabit, the earth's vast expanse.
- 15 Like a potter He fashioned, their hearts all the same; understanding together, the things He has made.
- 16 There's no king who saves, with his army of might; no warrior snatched, from his foe in the fight.
- 17 A horse is as nothing, for safety from harm; nor can it deliver, by strength of its arm.
- 18 For lo the Lord's eye, is on those who respect; those who patiently wait, and His kindness expect.
- 19 To rescue their soul, from the house of the dead; and give them long life, in the days without bread.
- 20 Our soul is awaiting, the Lord evermore; He is our aid, our shield strong and sure.

- 21 Each heart shall be joyful, because of His grace; because we have trusted, in His holy name.
- 22 Let Your kindness O Lord, be on us all around; as we trust in Your power, and love to abound.
