

PSALM 66

Shout for joy, unto our God; let all the earth, render Him laud.

- 2 Break forth in song, for His great name and splendor; unto His glory, our praises surrender.
- 3 Declare unto God, "How great are Your acts"; at Your great strength, every foe will collapse.
- 4 Every nation, will bow at Your fame; break forth in song, giving praise to Your name. (Pause)
- 5 Go gaze at the deeds, our great God has done; awesome in action, toward Adam's sons.
- 6 Converting the sea, into dry where they trod; through the great stream, gladdened there by our God.
- 7 Eternally governs, with strength the Lord sees; His eyes on the nations, no rebels can please. (Pause)
- 8 Kneel before God, every person and clan; sound forth His praise, to be heard by each man.
- 9 Each living soul, He keeps them all; He'll not give our feet, ever to fall.
- 10 For You O God, have proven us Thine; purged as pure silver, fully refined.
- 11 We come into a castle, a fortress and strong place; when great distress, is laid on our waists.
- 12 Men set over our heads, through flames water too; You caused us to escape, satisfied in You.
- 13 I'll come into Your house, with whole burnt offerings; I'll pay back to the full, all my promised things.
- 14 Each vow that from my lips, was opened to Thee; words promised by mouth, in my adversity.
- 15 I'll rise to thee and burn, offerings in Your sight; smells of oxen and ram, of he-goats with my might. (Pause)
- 16 Come and listen each one, respect God we know; I'll recount all the great things, He's done for my soul.
- 17 Called to Him with my mouth, my voice to Him raised; and my tongue extolled Him, exalting with praise.
- 18 Should I look in my heart, and find iniquity; the Lord would not hear, nor give ear to my plea.
- 19 But truly God heard me, listened unto me there; pricked His ears to my call, hearkened unto my prayer.
- 20 I kneel to God for He's never, from my prayer declined; His beauty and kindness, always at my side.
